Series is intended for clinicians, researchers, trainees, and students. Community members welcome.

12-1 p.m. • Room 241 VKC/One Magnolia Circle Bldg. • Info: kc@vanderbilt.edu

VANDERBILT KENNEDY CENTER

Fall 2015 - Clinical & Translational Research in Intellectual and Developmental Disabilities

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 23, 2015
Scaling-Up an Evidence-Based Educational Practice: Findings from a Six-Year, Multi-Site, Longitudinal Study
• Douglas Fuchs, Ph.D., Nicholas Hobbs Chair and Professor in Special Education and Professor of Pediatrics

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 1, 2015
Nicotinic Treatment Approaches to Cognitive Impairment in Aging: From Dementia to Down Syndrome
• Paul Newhouse, M.D., Jim Turner Professor of Cognitive Disorders; Professor of Psychiatry, Pharmacology, and Medicine; Director, Vanderbilt Center for Cognitive Medicine
• Alexandra Key, Ph.D., Research Associate Professor of Hearing and Speech Sciences; Director, Psychophysiology Lab

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 4, 2015
Oxytocin Trials in Autism and Other IDDs
• Kevin Sanders, M.D., Assistant Professor of Child & Adolescent Psychiatry, School of Medicine; Medical Director, VKC TRIAD; Medical Director, Fragile X Treatment Research Program
• Zachary Warren, Ph.D., Associate Professor of Pediatrics, Psychiatry, and Special Education; Executive Director, VKC TRIAD; Director, Autism Clinical Services, Department of Pediatrics and Vanderbilt Kennedy Center