Tim Shriver is a social leader, an educator, activist, film producer, and business entrepreneur. He is the Chairman of Special Olympics, and in that capacity he serves 4.4 million Special Olympics athletes and their families in 170 countries. He has helped transform Special Olympics into a movement that focuses on acceptance, inclusion, and respect for individuals with intellectual disabilities in all corners of the globe. Fifty years ago to the day, his grandmother Rose Kennedy and parents Eunice Kennedy Shriver and Sargent Shriver celebrated the founding of the John F. Kennedy Center at Peabody College, one of our nation’s original Intellectual and Developmental Disabilities Research Centers. Join us to celebrate how lives have been transformed and to commit to meet the challenges of the present and future.
