Who
Healthy children, 8-10 years of age, who are very shy or very outgoing

What
Three visits to Vanderbilt

Your child will:
• answer questions about personality, feelings, and behaviors
• give several small saliva samples
• complete a brain MRI scan

You and your child will be compensated for your time.

Is your child very shy or very outgoing?

We are interested in how a child’s temperament may relate to differences in brain function.

Contact
Jacci Clauss at (615)936-3563 or Jacci.Clauss@vanderbilt.edu

Study conducted by Dr. Jennifer Blackford, Ph.D. at Vanderbilt University Medical Center.