Infant Development and Autism Study

We invite babies 6–12 months old to join our study on social and language development and musical play. Babies are eligible if they have:

- an older sibling with autism or an older sibling without autism

Your Child Will:

- Come to Vanderbilt University for 1-2 visits at study enrollment
- Play games that test language and social skills
- Have play time with parent(s)
- Watch a movie (eye/gaze tracking)
- Complete follow-up questionnaires and visits

Families receive information on their child’s development, including developmental testing and assessment for autism, as well as a written report with results, recommendations, and referrals at no cost. Families are compensated for their time and participation.
