Going to the 6th Floor Clinic

This is the 6th floor check-in.
There is a cool computer where we sign in. It lets the nurse know we are in the waiting room.
This is a picture of the waiting room.
There is an aquarium in the waiting room. Some people think it is relaxing to look at fish.
There are computer games in the waiting room. The computer station looks like a robot!
When it is my turn, one of the nurses will call my name.
She will take me to the clinic room.
_______ can go with me.
The nurse puts on gloves.
She puts a band around the arm.
It feels a little tight. The band makes it easier for the nurse to see the veins.
She wipes a place on the arm. The wipe feels cold.
Then the nurse puts in the needle. It may hurt a little.
When the needle is in, the nurse can take the blood.
The blood comes out into a tube.
Sometimes the nurse needs to get more than one tube of blood. It is okay to ask the nurse how many she needs.
When the tubes are full, she will take out the needle.
She will put a piece of cotton on the spot where the needle was.
The nurse may ask me to hold the cotton.
She will put a bandaid on the cotton.
Now we are all done.
When we are all finished, I can do something special! There are some cool things to do in the hospital.
I can go see the train.
I can play in the butterfly garden.
I can eat lunch in the food court.
I can go to Ben & Jerry’s for ice cream.
I can get some candy.
Or, I can talk to __________ about a different surprise.
___________ knows what I like.
