Vanderbilt Kennedy Center Research Ethics Grand Rounds

Health Care for Adults With Intellectual and Developmental Disabilities: The Ethical Considerations

Tuesday, April 17, 2018
Light lunch • 12-1 p.m., Room 241
VKC/One Magnolia Circle Bldg.

Register at:
vkc.mc.vanderbilt.edu/events/6059

Adults with intellectual and developmental disabilities experience a number of barriers when attempting to access quality health care. Shortages in providers raises questions about training, health inequities, and justice issues. What are the ethical considerations and how can change happen? Join us for a discussion on common challenges from the point of view of a parent, health care providers, and a systems perspective, and learn about some innovative steps some are taking to address those challenges.

The VKC welcomes participants with disabilities. Contact kc@vanderbilt.edu for disability access information.

Panel Participants:
Moderator: Julie Lounds Taylor, Ph.D., Assistant Professor of Pediatrics and Special Education
Doria Panvini, Parent advocate and policy expert
Lisa Mills, Ph.D., Deputy Chief of Long-Term Services and Supports, Bureau of TennCare, Division of Long Term Services and Supports
Paul Dressler, M.D., MPH, Assistant Professor of Pediatrics, Division of Developmental Medicine
Dianne Killebrew, M.Ed. R.D., L.D.N., Educational Coordinator, Health Promotion in Management, Business and Community Areas of Practice